Speakers

Gigliola Paviotti holds a PhD in Education and works as a senior researcher in Education at the University of Macerata, Italy. She worked for more than twenty years in Education and training, focusing on transitions from Education to work and university-business cooperation. Her research has recently focused on place-based approaches to support graduates' employment in local labour markets, particularly in rural development and graduates' employability.

José Manuel Fortes Alayón is CEO at LAUREON, an Innovation, Strategy & Entrepreneurship consultancy firm. LAUREON co-manages the Tenerife Work & Play Brand for the Government of Tenerife, which aims to make Tenerife a world-class place for Remote Work.

About ON-IT

The ON-IT project aims to develop a guidance framework and practical tools to design and implement quality online tourism internships in higher education. By actively engaging all actors involved in the internship experience, the ON-IT project focuses on equipping them with the necessary knowledge and skills to face the challenges of digital transformation in the labour market.

Consortium

The project is implemented by a consortium composed by University of Macerata, Italy (coordinator); University of La Laguna, Spain; JAMK University of Applied Sciences, Finland; Montpellier Business School, France; University of Rijeka, Croatia; UNIMED - Mediterranean Universities Union, Italy; IGCAT – International Institute of Gastronomy, Culture, Arts and Tourism, Spain.

Co-funded by the Erasmus+ Programme of the European Union

ON-IT is co-funded by the Erasmus+ programme of the European Union under Key Action: Cooperation for innovation and the exchange of good practices – KA226-Partnership for Digital Education Readiness during the period March 2021-August 2023.
